CONGRESS TO ADJOURN SATURDAY

Foraker Starts Another Discussion Of The Brownsville Affair--Decisions Of The Supreme Court On Important Matters.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Dec. 14.—The republicans of the Ways and Means committee met today to take the first steps toward framing a new tariff bill. The democrats will have no voice in the deliberations.

To Adjourn Saturday.
The lower house today adopted a joint resolution for the adjournment of congress from Dec. 19 to Jan. 4, for the Christmas holidays.

Foraker Talks Again.
Sen. Foraker in the senate introduced an amendment to the bill providing for the re-enlistment of the negro troops discharged without honor or for alleged participation in the Brownsville affair.

Reveries' Views.
At the conclusion of his speech on the subject, the President's special message on the affair was read.

In the Supreme Court.
In an opinion by Justice Holmes of the Supreme court today, it is held that 12. Harriman and Otto Kahn, should not be required to answer the interstate commerce commission's questions concerning the dealings in stocks between the Union Pacific and other roads to which they refused to make response when the subject was under investigation in New York.

A Dissenting View.
In a dissenting opinion Justice Day expressed as his opinion, this construction of the law had given to the interstate commerce commission laws that take from it all power of investigation.

Reverses Decision.
The supreme court also reversed the verdict of the district court of Colorado, discharging from custody a number of persons arrested on the charge of conspiring to defraud the government by entering the timber and coal lands in Colorado contrary to law.

DIES AT HOSPITAL -AFTER OPERATION

George B. Hissop Passes Away In Superior—Was a Prominent Business Man.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Superior, Wis., Dec. 14.—Street Commissioner George B. Hissop died at the hospital in this city late Saturday following an operation for ectasia.

Mr. Hissop was a former member of the city council, a former exalted ruler of the local Elks and one of the most prominent business men of the city. He had been ill for about two months with a complication of diseases of which ectasia was the most persistent. It was finally decided necessary to amputate his limb and this was done the day before his death. His vitality was so low as to render him unable to withstand the operation.

Big Transfer.
Property has just been transferred from President Hill of the Great Northern to the Duluth, Superior and Western Terminal company giving to the latter company the site necessary for the construction of more or docks alongside the Great Northern's present docks on Allouez bay in this city.

The company getting the property is the one which operates the Great Northern docks and it is understood that the transfer just made is preliminary to the construction of one and perhaps two more the coming season. It is said that the docks will be of steel and concrete. When the Great Northern built the last of its present docks it contemplated constructing it of steel but to save time it was used instead. The business over the docks this season has been very light compared with 1907 but as the Hill are land deal with the steel trust company the latter to ship over the Great Northern the latter to ship over the Great Northern a certain amount whether mined or not, it is expected that the shipments over this line will be heavier from this time on and that the proposed new docks will be needed.

NETHERLAND STATES ITS ATTITUDE AS TO SEIZURE

On The Other Hand Venezuela Announces That Holland Is Entirely Wrong.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Hague, Dec. 14.—The government of the Netherlands is satisfied that it was quite within its rights, from a standpoint of international law in seizing the Venezuelan coast guard ship Alix off Puerto Cabello last Saturday. The Alix was suspected of carrying munitions of war from one Venezuelan port to another. All rumors that war had been declared today were denied.

Caracas, Dec. 14.—Foreign Minister Paul today sent a note to the members of the diplomatic corps here protesting again the "the repeated violations of the territorial rights of Venezuela" by three Dutch warships in Venezuelan waters, states Venezuela "holds Holland responsible for all consequences."

REGENTS DECLINE HIS RESIGNATION

Regents decline ...
President Northrup Is Asked to Remain at Minnesota For Few Years.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Saint Paul, Minn., Dec. 14.—The board of regents of the University of Minnesota has declined to accept the resignation of President Cyrus Northrup, the venerable head of the institution under whose guidance it has grown from a school with a few hundred students to a university of 1,000 and its permanent plant from two small buildings to 22 modern structures. President Northrup is put in such a position that although he considers himself entitled to rest and quiet retirement he cannot lay down his duties at this time.

The action of the regents is a remarkable recognition of the splendid work of President Northrup, who during his long years of service has made himself a personal influence on the lives of all his students. Several excellent men have been mentioned as possible successors, but the regents considered that the best interests of the great educational institution demand that President Northrup shall continue his work for a few years more at least, and that no man can be chosen who will so well serve the young men and women of Minnesota as he.

The university has prepared its schedule of requirements for the two-year period and appropriation bills covering $37,000 will be presented to the legislature which meets in January. Three new buildings are requested of the state, a medical building costing $200,000, an anatomical building costing $200,000 and a new women's dormitory costing $150,000.

FRESH RUMORS OF ROAD EXTENSION

Omaha Line May Extend Its Road
From Holcombe to Ladysmith—Survey Already Made.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chippewa Falls, Wis., Dec. 14.—Fresh rumors of the Omaha road extending its road from Holcombe to Ladysmith have been in circulation for several days. The line of proposed road was surveyed a number of years ago and outfit were on the ground to commence the construction work when suddenly all efforts came to an end. Since then there have been occasional rumors that the road will be built. There seems to be no longer doubt that the Menasha Paper company, which operates a mill at Ladysmith and pulp mill at Port Arthur, four miles down the river, will build a dam and a pulp mill. There are several fine water powers on the Flambeau River which all are in the natural state.

Visit State Home.
Members of the state board of control and legislative committee visited the state home for feeble minded here yesterday. One of the four new dormitories has been opened during the past week and the other three will probably be completed by next spring, and the home will then have a capacity of from 100 to 110 inmates.

A recommendation probably made to the next legislature that an appropriation be made for the erection of a school building and a hospital building at the home. It is not believed that the legislature will provide for the establishing of another home. Instead, it is thought, that the legislature will make it possible for county asylums to take care of a certain class of feeble minded persons and with the increase in the number of the local institution the state's feeble minded will be properly taken care of.

A matter which is interesting the state board of control is the sterilization of insane and feeble minded persons. The board has made a thorough investigation of the subject in states where the practice is in vogue and will make an exhaustive report of the legislature. It is believed that the legislature will pass a law at its next session legalizing sterilization.

Want Election of Local Assessors to be Removed From Sphere of Local Authorities.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 14.—The Wisconsin State Tax Commission has begun a campaign for a change of the constitution such as will permit the legislature to remove from local authorities the election of assessors, so that the men whose duty it is to list property values for the purposes of taxation will not be subject to local influences and therefore neglect the law in order to please local authorities and hold their places. The tax commission is sending out a circular letter all over the state, to prominent citizens generally, presenting this proposition. A recent Wisconsin legislature enacted a law empowering the state tax commission to appoint local assessors in cases where it was shown that the ones appointed by the local authorities were not doing their work according to the language of the law with reference to assessing property at its full value. The attorney general, however, knocked out this act with an official opinion that it was an unauthorized legislative interference with the powers of localities.

A portion of the circular letter now being sent out is a sad commentary upon the present system of taxation, treating of the malapportionment of tax burdens and inequalities resulting from omissions and arbitrary valuations of property in the making of local assessments.

"Assessments have not improved materially in recent years," says the commission. "In some respects they have grown worse notwithstanding the efforts for improvement made by acts of the legislature and otherwise."

"Of assessors, instead of owing their office to local electors, were selected by some outside authority and with reference to their capacity, with tenure of office and compensation depending upon efficiency, they would be immune to the influences now producing evil results."

Question Regarding Guaging of Coal Is Up Before Country's Highest Tribunal.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—This case of Knapp and Ruck vs. the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company was called for hearing in the United States Supreme Court today. The case involves the Louisiana law regarding the guaging of coal shipped into that state by the barge load.

FOREIGNERS SEND MUCH MONEY HOME

Several Million Dollars Have Already Been Sent Out So Far This Month.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Dec. 14.—American dollars will furnish Christmas cheer in many humble homes in Europe this year. Since December 1, in fourteen days, several million dollars in foreign money orders have been issued by the New York postoffice. The aggregate is considerably in excess of the figures of last year, though not up to the records of some previous years.

It is expected that the total, including large sums that will be carried away by the steamships, this week, will amount to more than $6,000,000.

There was a time when Ireland received by far the largest proportion of these Christmas gifts from her sons and daughters who had taken up new homes on this side of the Atlantic. In the last few years, however, she has been closely pressed for first place by Italy. A single ship sailing from New York last year carried nearly $100,000 in money orders sent by Italians living here to relatives and friends in Italy. Large sums are sent to the United Kingdom, Germany, Hungary and Russia; with Denmark, Austria, Sweden, Belgium, Greece, The Netherlands and Switzerland following in the order named.

TALK HOME COMING FOR FOURTH OF JULY

Many Discuss Holding Big Celebration Here On Next National Holiday

Having its inception at the gathering of former Janesville residents living in Chicago, plans are being informally discussed for a Home Coming and Fourth of July celebration on July 4th next. Janesville did not celebrate the National holiday last year and many would like to see a good old fashioned celebration again this coming year. The former residents of Janesville decided to come to Janesville on next Fourth for a Home Coming and many citizens think that with this as a nucleus for a crowd a genuine gathering could be held without much trouble. It is probable that after the first of the year steps will be taken in this direction.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. E. HALL

Were Held This Morning at Ten O'clock From the Late Residence. —Rev. J. H. Tippet Officiated. Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Hall were held at her late residence on South River street at ten o'clock this morning. Rev. J. H. Tippet officiated. The song service was rendered by Miss Cora Anderson and Mrs. Fanny Clark. Dr. Hanford of Rockford, Georgia

Condon of Chicago. D. Train of Rockford, Albert Hubel, Henry and Mark Hanson of Janesville acted as bearers and the remains were taken to Delavan to rest by the side of her husband, who died two years ago.

This brief statement closes a chapter in the history of a man and woman who had to do with the making of early history in the west. More than sixty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Hall established a new home in Chicago and opened a little store near where the Board of Trade building now stands.

Later they went to Delavan and engaged in business, and after a number of years moved to Beloit, and twenty-five years ago came to Janesville.

During all these years they were comrades in the home and companion in business, and while not amassing a fortune, they acquired a comfortable living, and a reputation for honesty and uprightness which was a priceless heritage.

They were old fashioned New England merchants whose word was as good as a bond. When foolishness overtook the old gentleman, months before his death, the faithful wife and companion took up the added responsibility, cheered and encouraged by the presence of a loving daughter, whose life was devoted to the care and comfort of the home.

Since the death of the husband the business has gone on without interruption under the name and direction of the wife, who had so long been a partner.

There is always something pathetic about the old signs which swing over the door, and memory calls back the old familiar figures which occupied the stage not so long ago.

In thinking of Mr. and Mrs. Hall with their long business experience, it is a pleasure to note that the record is clear, with no semblance of a blemish. Professing little but possessing much, they made the long journey and the world is better because they traveled through it.

TRIAL ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

Railroad Men of Whom He is Alleged to Have Begged Will be the Witnesses Tomorrow.

"Darth" Griffin's 180 day commitment to the county jail from Evansville, was a practical joke framed up by the officers. In the bona-fide document he was only booked to serve five days. This morning he appeared in municipal court and entered a plea of "not guilty" to a charge of vagrancy preferred against him. The hearing was set for tomorrow morning when several railroad men who allege that he solicited alms from them will be able to appear and offer testimony. He was unable to furnish $200 bail bonds and will remain in the county jail pending the trial. Thomas Nash pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and will spend 10 days in the hospital. Henry Watson was fined $2 and costs for the same offense but sentence was suspended on his promise to return to work in the country.

BISHOP CONFIRMED 4407 DURING YEAR

Right Rev. Bishop Joseph J. Fox Has Administered Confirmation in 73 Churches.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Green Bay, Dec. 14.—During the year 1908 Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph J. Fox administered confirmation in seventy-three churches to a total of 4,407 persons in the Green Bay diocese. He blessed new churches in Ashland, Humboldt, Whitelaw, Reedsville, Ina, Belmont and Clarke Mills, and new school buildings in Phoenix, Manitowish, Maynor, Green Bay, Shawano, and Oshkosh. Besides that he blessed a new chapel and addition to St. Vincent's church. The visitations to points in the diocese was begun in the spring and extended at intervals until last month. During certain periods Bishop Fox was busy for five and ten days at a time without interruption.

Ren's Factory. The boat factory of Horace J. Conley, at one time one of the busiest and best known in this country and where famous yachts were made, but which has been idle since Mr. Conley's illness, has been rented by Myron Wines and Anton Verheyden, two employees of the factory and will be run by them. The manufacture of sail boats, launches and row boats will be taken up January 1.

To Give Recital.

In a recital tomorrow night at the Green Bay theatre by the auspices of the Green Bay Choral society. This is to be the first offering of the season by that society. The seat sale for the recital is large.

DIAGRAM OF BOSTON'S NEW $10,000,000 SUBWAY AT THE DEEPEST PART, UNDER THE EAST BOSTON TERMINAL, AND THE 11-STORY AMES BUILDING.

Boston, Mass.—The latest step in the solution of transportation problems for Greater Boston is the new $10,000,000 subway about to be opened. This has many unique features, which protect and assist and please the passenger. The ventilating system is the best yet devised and no loss or improvement is the care for sanitation of the subway. There are no square corners to collect dirt and filth.

The 5,076 feet of its length cost an average of nearly $2,000 per foot. It is the most expensive mile of railroad in the world.

The system of moving stairways or escalators, at the deepest parts, are to save patrons climbing. These escalators will later be installed at all stations here and in the subway. The escalators have been tested for 21,000 pounds each. They can carry 3,000 persons down and 2,500 up per hour.

The tunnel is white lined throughout with different color scheme in handsome mosaics for each station as a distinguished mark in addition to station signs. All booths for news stands, telephones, etc., are set into walls, leaving the platforms clear for traffic. Advertisement spaces are arranged in ornamental brass frames and add to appearance of stations instead of detracting, as they tend to relieve the monotony of the walls.

Altogether it is the most magnificent tunnel ever completed by man and Boston is justly proud of it.

BOWERY MISSION IS AIDED BY RICH FOLK

E. H. Gary and Party View Bread Line and Make Handsome Donations to Poor.

New York, Dec. 14.—As the result of a visit paid to the Bowery mission by former Judge E. H. Gary, head of the steel trust, at an early hour Sunday that mission is several thousand dollars richer. Also, as a further result, a movement may be instituted to bring about the passage of a law to provide for the transportation of deserving indigent Americans to places in the west where positions may be offered them.

Several days ago Judge Gary made arrangements with the Bowery mission to visit that strange oasis in the desert of New York's underworld. Rev. John G. Hallmond, superintendent of the mission, and Dr. Charles Vincent Herdlick, sociological worker, formed a reception committee and several others acted as escort. With Judge Gary were Mrs. Gary, Mrs. Clark of Chicago, Mrs. Avery, Capt. Henry Demar, a western mine owner, and a number of others.

The "bread line" at the Bowery mission forms at midnight. From one to three o'clock a. m. men to the number of about 1,500 are given hot coffee and ham sandwiches nightly. There were 1,467 in line Sunday morning.

Judge Gary wrote a check and handed it to the superintendent of the mission. Capt. Demar gave the mission $1,000. Others in the party gave liberally and, not counting the check given by Judge Gary it is reported that the donations footed up nearly $4,000.

The character of the men who formed the "bread line" surprised those who came to observe. Judge Gary talked with many of them. They all had the same story to tell—no work, no chance to earn a living.

"And I can't get men to work in my mines out west," said Capt. Demar.

It was this remark that brought up the question of transportation and the desirability of a law that would make it possible for men to be transported at public expense to distant points, the same as immigrants are transported by the federal government.

GOOD PROFITS ON COINAGE.

Director of Mint Reports That Government Made $10,541,371.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The government made a profit during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1908, of $10,541,371 on the coinage of silver, nickel and one-cent bronze pieces. This represents the difference between the price paid by the government for the metals and their coinage value. Director of the Mint Frank A. Lencz gives these figures in his annual report, which reaches Sunday.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Dec. 14, 1868.—Brought Up Short.—Some workmen engaged in repairing the old burnt building formerly occupied by Echlin & Fote, as was alleged, contrary to the ordinance in such case made and provided, were arrested on Saturday and brought before Judge Hudson. There were two of them and each was fined $20. This ordinance is one that ought not to be infringed upon, and we hope that the authorities will see that it is not.

Old Settler's Festival.—The old settlers of Rock county are making arrangements for their second festival to be held at Lappin's Hall on the 31st of the present month. That the occasion will be one of great enjoyment, no one will doubt, as it will be both a feast of reason and a flow of soul. The gathering will undoubtedly be a large one.

Amateur Minstrel.—This band of home performers give an entertainment at Lappin's Hall this evening. They promise a first rate performance.

A Temperance Party.—A convention of those favoring a prohibitory liquor law has just been held at Bloomington, Ill. They propose upon war against the sale and use of intoxicating liquors. A State Committee was appointed and other measures adopted for completing the organization.

Mount Aetna.—Dispatches from Sicily report a fresh eruption of Mount Aetna. On Tuesday night the volcano broke out with increased violence, ejecting flame and lava until five o'clock this morning. The ashes from the crater fell on the town of Aetna, and were blown over into the streets of Messina. At last accounts the mountain was enveloped in smoke and labored with deafening detonations.

Too Good To Be True.—Our Hanover neighbors still persist in asserting that coal has been discovered in that neighborhood. A correspondent says "Mr. Edward Tamm, one mile south of this place, while digging a well dug down to the depth of twenty feet and came to a vein of coal. The upper strata is a mixture of lime and shale to a depth of two and a half feet, and the strata below is beautiful anthracite to the depth of three feet. Preparation is being made to drift the vein and find out the extent of the same."

We are very anxious to believe this story but we must have some of the coal before we will believe it.

Assassination.—Baltimore, December 14.—Advisors from the region of the Alleghany Coal Company state that there was an assassination there of an highly respectable gentleman, Douglas Love, by unknown parties. Intense consternation prevailed throughout the whole country. It has been discovered that there is a secret clan existing there among the Irish, who have sent out threatening notifications to many citizens, on the principle of the Ku Klux, to leave immediately or remain at the peril of their lives.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

Delightful Vaudeville. Whinniger Bros. and their company of players who open a six nights' engagement at the Myers theatre this evening, present the best assembly of vaudeville numbers between the acts of their plays this season ever seen outside of the big city vaudeville houses, each and every one a distinct feature. Including Frank Whinniger, that funny German dialect comedian; John L. Whinniger, vocalist in latest selections; Ethel Hutton, lady comic soloist; Marie Fitzgibbon, topical songs and comic shouter; the Silver Quartette in latest instrumental selections; Whinniger Bros. musical artists in their original comedy musical act, introducing various novelty instruments, and a comedy quartette of male voices. A whole vaudeville show, carried for the purpose of eliminating the usual long waits between the acts, superior to anything ever carried or presented by any popular price organization.

Origin of Muslin. This favorite material of the "summer girl" derives its name from being first made at Mosul or Mossul, a town in Turkish Asia. From there it was introduced into India, and first brought to England in 1670. A few years afterward it was manufactured in large quantities in France and England, and in the present day English-made muslins rival in fineness the most delicate of gauzy muslins made in India.

QUEEN VICTORIA OPENING THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT 51 YEARS AGO (Reproduced from Leslie's Weekly Dec. 19, 1867.)

PRINCE HERISIER OF SERBIA, APPOINTED GENERAL OF THE FRONTIER, STANDING, AND HIS BROTHER, WHO IS UNDER HIM IN THE ARMY.

Two of the most interesting characters brought out by the recent Balkan troubles are Prince Herisier of Serbia and his younger brother. The prince has just been appointed general of all the frontier troops and as such is one of the dominant powers of his country. He has just reached his majority and is very popular with the men.

He has been in the army for several years and has frequently demonstrated his bravery and ability as a leader. His younger brother is with him in active service on the frontier.

Discouraging Vagabondage. The Luxembourg government is treating incorrigible vagabonds to bread and water for the first four days of their imprisonment, and to the lowest scale of ordinary diet twice a week afterward. The prisons are said to be emptying fast.

To Shut Out Noise. To shut out the various small noises which so annoy and distract one engaged in study or other work demanding concentration, try the Fourth of July "stunt" of stuffing the ears with cotton. This is far more effective than stopping the clocks and exiling the family.

Obedience The First Requisite. To learn obeying is the fundamental art of governing.—Carlyle.

Will Search for Fossils.

S. P. Verner points out that the recent discovery of the chimpanzee in a part of Africa where it had not been known to exist enables us to define a few regions where the gorilla, the chimpanzee and the pygmies exist in conditions suggestive of the possibility of discovering the fossils of their ancestry in good preservation. The pygmies are now known to have existed practically in situ for 3,000 years, and it is probable, Mr. Verner thinks, that the two great anthropoids may have been there for as great, or a greater, length of time. He is trying to indicate localities of limited area in which the likelihood of discovering the fossils mentioned is very great.

A BUSY DENTIST

A lady patient from a neighboring city, in my office the other day, said: "What a steady stream of patients you have coming and going. My sister, for whom you have been working lately, told me, 'She never saw anything like it.'"

This is strictly true. In this, the 8th year of my practice in Janesville, I certainly have more people who seem pleased to allow me to take care of their dental needs than I ever had before.

This wouldn't be true in this age of the survival of the fittest if I did not deliver the goods.

I honestly endeavor to do the very best work, and am glad to see that the effort is appreciated.

I believe I save 9-10 of the pain of dentistry.

And you will believe it also if you consult me for your dental work.

UNHAPPY COUPLE AT THE POLICE STATION

Chief Appleby Listened Patiently, for a Time, to the Mutual Grievances of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stendel.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stendel, who reside on South Franklin street, aired their mutual grievances at the police station Saturday night. Mrs. Stendel complained that her husband was not supporting her adequately; that he was saying bad things about her character; and that he wanted a divorce, but she was not going to give her consent to such a thing until she got good and ready. The husband appeared upon the scene in response to a telephone call from the Chief. He declared that when he married the young woman in Madison who had said her name was Mabel Wright, whereas he had since learned that her two sisters go by the name of Donnison. With wages of $3 a day he had not been able to make both ends meet and a new pair of shoes was the only luxury he had allowed himself since their marriage. Often he had gotten his own breakfast so that his wife could lie in bed and in other ways he had tried to be an ideal husband. Despite of these commendable efforts, things had not gone smoothly and the possibility that he and his spouse might ever agree seemed a remote one. Chief Appleby brought the joint debate to a close by advising the unhappy twain to consult a lawyer, if they were unable to reach an understanding in any other way.

ELLSWORTH TO BE EXAMINED THURSDAY

Large Gallery in Municipal Court Was Disappointed When Proceedings Were Continued This Morning.

Owing to the fact that District Attorney J. L. Fisher found it necessary to attend to business in Chicago today, the examination of Elmer E. Ellsworth on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, proffered by Mrs. Kate Kennedy, was continued until Thursday morning at ten o'clock. A large "gallery" which had collected in the courtroom was visibly disappointed when the announcement to this effect was made.

KNUTE GILBERTSON MAY BE LOCATED

Unknown Correspondent Informs Chief Appleby in a Letter That He is Hanging About Leyden.

Chief of Police Appleby this morning received an unsigned and almost indecipherable letter in which the writer seemed to be trying to convey the information that Knute Gilbertson, the hired man who is wanted for running away with a horse, wearing apparel and jewelry belonging to his employer, J. W. Richardson, last Wednesday, was hanging about in the vicinity of M. C. Fitch's woods near Leyden. Sheriff L. C. Fisher went to Leyden to investigate this afternoon.

JUDGE GRIMM PRESENTED BOOKS TO PUBLIC LIBRARY

Has Donated Four Copies of "Pluck" to the Janesville Public Library.

Judge George Grimm of Jefferson presented four copies of his book "Pluck" to the Janesville public library on Thursday last. This book was written by the judge a number of years ago and while it is interesting to grown ups it is especially written for younger people to show what can be accomplished by pluck and perseverance. It is the story of an emigrant boy who came to this country and of his struggles.

Some of the experiences told in the book are actual but most of them are fictitious.

SOLD HIS PROPERTY TO 2ND HAND STORE

Mrs. Ida Macauley Took French Leave of Her Star-Boarder, J. R. Hungerford, on Saturday.

Mail Clerk J. R. Hungerford arrived at his North Jackson street boarding house last Friday evening, only to discover that the place was locked and that his landlady, Mrs. Ida Macauley, had departed for new fields and that two coat stoves, a dining room table, a pair of iron bedsteads, four cane chairs, and other property belonging to him, and worth in all about $100, had also disappeared. Through the postoffice, the star-boarder subsequently received the following message:

"By the time you get this I will be in St. Paul or near there, with all my goods. I heard about you telling mother everything and Mr. Fisher told about me. I have a few friends. Never write or know me when we meet as we are strangers after this."

Mr. Hungerford was not disposed to accept this "fare-you-well forever" as far as the furniture was concerned and complained to Chief Appleby. The latter found on investigation that the effects had been moved out of the house about three o'clock in the afternoon and sold for about $50 at Oscar Hand's second hand store on North Main street. He also learned that Mrs. Macauley had gone to visit a daughter, Mrs. Eugene Pieren, in Leamur, Ill., and after getting into communication with her over the telephone sought to persuade her that it would be wise and prudent for her to return the $50. It also does not seem that this advice an officer of the law may be sent after her.

DUTCH SEIZE BOAT

Venezuelan Guardship Taken
by Cruiser Gelderland.

NO OPPOSITION IS OFFERED

Vessel Captured at Puerto Cabello Is Towed to Willemstad—Castro, on Way to Cologne, Repeats Assurance of Pacific Intentions.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Dec. 14.—The Venezuelan coast guardship Alix was seized Saturday off Puerto Cabello by the Gelderland, and Sunday morning the Dutch cruiser arrived here with Castro's vessel in tow. A Dutch prize crew was aboard the Alix and the Dutch flag was flying from her mast.

At that time the Alix was lying close to shore and, notwithstanding the threat which the Venezuelan government had made to fire upon any of the Dutch warships committing a hostile act, the Gelderland steamed at speed towards the guardship and sent an officer and guard in a launch to seize her. This they did without resistance and no shots came from the forts on land.

The crew of the Alix was put ashore and the Dutch officer and marines remained on board, the Gelderland finally taking the Alix in tow and steaming away with her prize.

Great Joy at Willemstad.

The seizure of the Alix was in accordance with the plans of the Holland government when instructions were issued to the three Dutch warships now in these waters to make a demonstration off the coast of Venezuela and to capture any Venezuelan ships of war or guard vessels that they might find. The arrival of the Gelderland at Willemstad was greeted with unbounded enthusiasm by those who noticed the cruiser's approach, and soon the entire population were down to the water's edge to welcome the return of the Gelderland, towing the first of the enemy's ships, as though from a great conquest.

Naturally the people of Curacao, who have long been clamoring for activity on the part of the Dutch government, are greatly rejoiced over this evidence that Holland has at last begun active measures against Venezuela.

Governor Explains Act.

The governor of Curacao, in explaining the incident, had this to say: "The capture by our warships of coast guards and war vessels is not to be considered an unfriendly act against the Venezuelans. It is merely a reprisal against Castro's government, which refuses to give satisfaction for his unfriendly acts towards Holland. The seizure of these vessels will make it impossible for the Venezuelan government, to carry troops or ammunition to and from the various ports. A communication to this effect has been forwarded by the Dutch government to the German minister at Caracas."

It is learned from the officers of the Gelderland that the battleship Jacob Van Heemskerck and the cruiser Friesland are now off La Guaira and that further captures may be expected at any time.

Castro Tells of Peace Desires.

Paris, Dec. 14.—President Castro of Venezuela and his party left here Sunday for Cologne, where a consultation of physicians will be held to determine upon the advisability of an operation on the president. If an operation is found necessary Dr. Israel probably will perform it at Berlin.

During his stay in this city Castro kept himself closely confined to his hotel, refusing to give out any statement to newspaper men, except through some member of his suite. On the train Sunday, however, he recorded an interview to a representative of the Temps, saying that as he was leaving France he felt at liberty to receive a journalist.

The interview, while guarded, fully confirms the representations made by Castro at Santander to the effect that he was desirous of settling Venezuela's outstanding diplomatic differences and, so far as France is concerned, had already made the first steps in that direction.

Depends on Cable Company Affair.

While avoiding a direct question as to what he expected to do toward settling Venezuela's foreign quarrels, pointing out that as a "private citizen" he was not qualified to answer, he made it clear that the resumption of diplomatic relations with France depended entirely upon the settlement of the French Cable Company controversy.

"It is incontestable," he said, "that the French Cable Company was an accomplice against my government in the Matos revolution."

"But that did not justify the expulsion of M. Talmy, the charge d'affaires," said the interviewer.

"In this, as in other differences with the powers," replied President Castro, "Venezuela only defended herself."

Solideo Was a St. Paul Man.

Ellicott City, Md., Dec. 14.—The body of the man known as A. H. Crawford, who committed suicide near here Saturday just as he was being placed under arrest by federal officers, has been identified as that of Orlan Clyde Cullen of St. Paul. Among his papers was found his appointment as "traveling" manager and diplomatic agent of the people's guard of the Russian Republican Military association.

Generally.

The man who thinks he is one of the chosen few generally turns out to be one of the disappointed many.

BATTLESHIPS ANCHOR
AT COLOMBO, CEYLONCase of Smallpox on the Georgia—
Plenty of Entertainment Provided for Tara.

Colombo, Ceylon, Dec. 14.—Steaming slowly in single file, the Atlantic fleet battleships arrived here Sunday morning, and were greeted by great throngs of Europeans and natives.

The flagship Connecticut, with Rear Admiral Sperry, the commander of the fleet, aboard, entered the harbor at nine o'clock, the others following at short intervals. The warships saluted the port and the salute was returned.

The battleship fleet left Manila on December 1 at eight o'clock in the morning and passed Singapore six days later. The voyage was uneventful, the weather being fine throughout and the battleships proceeding at an even speed of about ten knots an hour. The health of the men on the ships is excellent, with the exception of one case of smallpox on the Georgia, which detached herself from the fleet on December 9 and arrived here Saturday.

This is one of the most difficult harbors the fleet has yet entered, but all the battleships were berthed without incident, the perfect maneuvering of the vessels occasioning great admiration. Coning will begin immediately. During the period the fleet will remain here the officers and men will be entertained extensively. The official reception took place Monday and after that every hour of leisure will be fully occupied in enjoying the excursions and festivities which have been arranged. The program includes a trip to Kandy, which lies near the center of the island on the banks of a fine artificial lake 62 miles northeast of Colombo. The residence of the British governor-general is located there, as well as the former king's palace and the Buddhist temple of Dalad Malagawa. The excursions to this point will be free of charge to all.

A series of sports is on the official program and many valuable prizes have been donated for the winners. The governor will give a banquet on Wednesday, the guests including 30 of the higher American officers and fifty or more prominent civilians, and on the following day Lady MacCallum will give an "at home."

Farm Products Make New Record in Country's History.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, in his twelfth annual report to President Roosevelt, declares farm products of 1908 make a new record in the country's history. American farms are reported to have exceeded the miles fourfold, albeit of and precious metals are included in the showing of the latter.

Corn is declared king in the detailed account of cereals, staples, tubers, and the dethroned monarch—cotton. Cotton takes second place in value.

"The hay yield makes a new record, is the greatest ever reported, and thus helps the remarkable showing of agricultural products in general."

In its resume of values, the secretary's report shows the farm value of all farm products to have reached "the most extraordinary total in the nation's history—$7,778,000,000."

WELL-KNOWN GOLFER KILLED.

Phelps B. Hoyt of Chicago Meets Death in Auto Crash.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Phelps B. Hoyt, secretary-treasurer of the W. H. Hoyt Company, wholesale grocers, and one of the most widely known men in western golf circles, died late Saturday night from injuries he received in an automobile accident in Rogers Park early in the evening.

With John Borden, an intimate friend, he was returning from a trap shooting contest at the Glen View Country club when the machine crashed at high speed into a heavily loaded coal wagon at Ridge and Pratt avenues.

Both men were hurled from the car as it overturned. Borden fell on his hands and knees, but Hoyt struck on his head. His skull was fractured and he did not regain consciousness.

Suppressing Sedition in India.

Calcutta, Dec. 14.—Great excitement prevails here owing to developments in the agitation which has been going on for some time against the government. The most prominent Bengal leader in eastern Bengal, Dutta, was arrested at Durban on Saturday and conveyed to an unknown destination. Another prominent nationalist leader, Mitra, editor of the Sanjibani, has been arrested at Calcutta, while the editor of another native paper has been sentenced to transportation on the charge of sedition.

THREE AMERICANS KILLED

Scene of Destruction in Bas Obispo
Cut Where 21 Tons of Dynamite
Exploded Accidentally—Other Victims May Be Found.

Colon, Dec. 14.—Twenty-one tons of dynamite exploded prematurely Saturday in the Bas Obispo cut of the canal, with shocking results. Responsibility for the accident, the worst since American began work on the canal, has not yet been placed, but a thorough inquiry is under way.

The known dead now total 14. That many bodies have been recovered, but it is possible that a score or more are still under the masses of rocks and earth that were thrown up. Fifty were injured. The death list would have been appalling had a train conveying 500 laborers passed a few minutes later. This train steamed through the cut and was barely out of view when the explosion occurred.

Terrible Effects of Explosion.

For a distance of 800 feet in length and 400 feet in width the Bas Obispo cut presents a graphic picture of the terrible effects of the explosion. The whole hillside has been devastated, the dynamite ridding the earth in twain and tossing huge boulders in all directions. A 90-ton steam shovel lies a complete wreck, crushed under the weight of falling rocks. Every one of the crew was killed. All the tracks in this section were torn to pieces and are now covered with tons of debris.

The work of clearing away the wreckage continued throughout the night and Sunday, but a long time will be necessary to take away the great heaps of earth and rocks in the search for the buried dead. Hundreds of men are on the scene working heroically to find the bodies of their dead comrades.

Three Americans Dead.

The charge consisted of 51 holes, 60 feet deep, and spread out over a large section of territory. The last hole was being charged by John J. Kelly, an experienced powder man, when it exploded. The others were exploded by the concussion. Kelly was blown to pieces. The other American dead include John J. Korp, steam-shovel engineer, and J. T. Hammer, steam-shovel crane man. Two Spaniards were also killed and eight West India negroes.

The badly injured include B. H. Cole, powder man, and Arthur Bassett, drill foreman, both of them Americans. The officials at the American hospital, where many of the injured were taken, report that they are doing well.

MCKINLEY IS TAFT'S TOPIC.

Memorial Organ in Metropolitan Temple,
New York, Dedicated.

New York, Dec. 14.—President-elect William H. Taft, speaking Sunday night at the dedication of a McKinley memorial organ in the Metropolitan Temple, told, to an audience which repeatedly interrupted him with applause, the story of his official association with the late president and declared with reference to the Philippine islands that the policy laid down by Mr. McKinley in 1900 had been the policy of the present as it will be the policy of his own administration in the White House.

Mr. Taft reached New York early Sunday from Washington and will remain here until Thursday, when he leaves for Augusta, Ga., to spend the five weeks preceding his proposed departure to the Panama canal. Mr. Taft said his visit to New York was devoid of political interest and that he did not expect to make any cabinet announcements while here. He is to address the National Civic Federation Tuesday evening and the Ohio society Wednesday evening.

Good Thing for National Guard.

Washington, Dec. 14.—National Guard interests are substantially promoted by a recent order of the war department contemplating that all regulations received from militia authorities for clothing and equipment be filled by the issue from the army source of supplies of the latest style of articles called for. This will have the effect of equipping the militia with nothing obsolete, abandoned or outpatterned in the way of material. Officials say it is a case of the regular army being adapted for the benefit of the militia.

Hansbrough Still Very Sick.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 14.—Although Senator H. C. Hansbrough of Devils Lake, N. D., who was operated upon at Asbury hospital Friday, is not gaining strength as rapidly as might be expected and is still seriously ill, his physicians believe there is no additional cause for worry over his condition. He spent a fairly comfortable day Sunday and at night was resting easily.

Kieran Not Yet Found.

New York, Dec. 14.—The search of process servers and others for Patrick J. Kieran, the missing former president of the Fidelity Funding Company, has made no progress. Kieran's wife returned to New York late Saturday night and is now at the Devonshire. She refused to discuss the whereabouts of her husband.

It takes some people a long time to find out that things are not always valuable because they cost dearly.

BIG DECREASE IN DISTILLING.

Shown in Internal Revenue Receipts for Last Fiscal Year.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Commissioner John G. Capers of the internal revenue bureau in his annual report states that for the last fiscal year there was a decrease in the receipts of $17,998,072 as compared with the previous year, and that for the first three months of the current year there has been a decrease of $7,262,238 as compared with the corresponding months of the last fiscal year.

The revenues for the full current year are estimated at $250,000,000, which is $1,685,000 less than for last year.

The production of distilled grain spirits for the fiscal year 1908 was 123,989,740 tax gallons, which is a decrease of over 40,000,000 gallons as compared with last year. This is accounted for by the commissioner by the prohibition movement, the high price of grain and the agreement among distillers to curtail production. The total production of denatured alcohol during the year was 3,321,451 wine gallons, which is about 240,000 gallons less than for the previous year, and from reports received there does not appear to have been any very material increase in the quantity entering into general or agricultural use. This is partly accounted for by the high prices of distilling materials.

Congressman Mouser Very Ill.

Waco, Tex., Dec. 14.—Unconscious and suffering from uremic poisoning and acute congestion of the kidneys, Congressman Grant E. Mouser of the Marion (O.) district, was removed from a Pennsylvania train here at noon Sunday to a hospital, where he now lies in a critical condition, according to Dr. George Ryall, the railroad company's surgeon. His recovered consciousness later.

Washington's Fire Chief Dead.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Chief William T. Holt of the Washington fire department, vice-president of the National Association of Fire Chiefs, and one of the best-known fire fighters in the country, died suddenly Sunday night of heart disease, aged 63 years. Grief over the tragic drowning of his favorite son a few weeks ago is believed by his family to have hastened the chief's death.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 14.—Nearly 1,000 members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will meet in Baltimore during Christmas week to listen to the reading of papers detailing the progress of science during the year and to celebrate the centenary of the birth of Charles Darwin and the semi-centenary of the first publication of the "Origin of Species."

DON'T BE BALD

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

You can easily find out for yourself if your hair needs nourishment. If it is thinning out, getting dry, harsh and brittle, or splitting at the end. You simply have to pull a hair from the top of your head and closely examine its roots. If the bulb is plump and rosy, it is all right—if it is white and shrunken, your hair is diseased and needs nourishment.

We have a remedy for hair troubles that cannot be surpassed. It has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 33 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. It will even grow hair on bald heads. If the scalp is not itchy and shaly, that may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so sure that Rexall "33" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall "33" Hair Tonic in every instance where it does not do as we claim or fails to give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "33" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. We have it in two sizes. Prices 50c and $1.00. We urge you to try Rexall "33" Hair Tonic on our recommendation, and with our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. The Smith Drug Co.

EVERY MAN MADE
STEWARDS BY GOD

IS ENDOWED WITH THE ELE-MENTS OF THE FAITHFUL.

STRONG SERMON BYCHRISTY

His Hearers Urged to Follow the Teachings of St. Paul in His Epistle.

Yesterday morning at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Rev. W. C. Christy preached a sermon extolling his congregation to be faithful in the work which God has given them to do. The text was chosen from the fourth chapter of the first book of Paul's epistles to the Corinthians. In the second verse of the chapter, "Moreover, it is required in stewards that a man be found faithful."

A steward, said Rev. Christy, is one who is entrusted with goods or with duties. As Christians we are stewards of certain talents or gifts which have been bestowed upon us by Providence.
The disposition of these gifts determines what our reward shall be.
This requires of faithfulness in stewardship, but can not be overlooked. Whether we desire to be reckoned as stewards or not, matters little as we are made such by God and He will hold us as such. The only way to do, is to be faithful and be true to the trust which he has given us.
When we are full of faith, we are stewards in which God expects us to be.

If a man is to be a true steward, it is required that he be faithful, strong in the conception of the faith, and rich in power. When we compare, do and live as a faithful steward of God, it matters little what the world may say or do.

The world is not to be the judge.
The Lord is the one to judge our actions.

A Christian's faith is subject to three influences: man's judgement, his own judgement, and God's judgement. What we make of life is determined by which of these we are moved.
The character of John was unstable.
It was as a reed that is shaken by the wind and bending each way the wind may chance to blow, until Christ sent men to John telling him what work had been done in the Christian cause.

If we build a house we do not go to a swamp and pick a weed with which to build a covering over one's head.
We choose rather those things that will make a strong and substantial dwelling. If we want something that is firm, in Christ's house, the church, it must be established by those that are firm and stable.

There are people who are influenced by the external things and external influences. If all goes well they are happy but if not, they are sullen.
These people are what we call money.
They are unstable in their convictions. The same is true of their religion and their convictions—the way they lean. The great doctrine of the church, as shown about by the winds of their own desires rather than the doctrine of God. This makes man his own savior and great companion of people follow in the chariot that is blown about by the wind of popularity.

We see that the Apostle sees the danger of being influenced by self judgement. "Yea, I judge not mine own self." Paul who was not assured as the greatest missionary would not set himself up to judge himself. What does self-judgement do? When we become our own judges of what is right and wrong, we do not seek after that which is hard to do, or to wear
the hard clothes of a Christian laborer, or but rather to wear the soft robes of the King's house. How different was John from the others, with his clothes of camel's hair. When we seek only that which is pleasing and comfortable we are getting far away from the truth. They were soft robe men who are in the King's house.
They who would be stewards of Christ must not seek after the soft robe.
The Christian must always have the clothes on with which he labors in the Christian cause.

He that judges me is the Lord.
God's judgement, or the fear of God is what made John what he was: one who was a faithful steward and one who saw what he was commissioned to perform and did it; one who was prepared to wear the coat of the Christian laborer. John was the one who pursued his faithfulness of his stewardship of God in preparing for the coming of Christ. He is the one to whom Jesus points as being the greatest of men. Why was this true? Because he was not determined in his doctrine of life by anything external;
He did not seek after that which was easy to do and he did perform the duty of which was given to him. The power of God made him what he was.
He was great in God's judgement.

We might say it was an easy thing for John to keep steadfast in the ways of faithfulness and righteousness, but he was not preserved from sin except by his own faithfulness in the stewardship which God had given to him.
John's place stands out as one to which everyone must look and admire.

The place which is afforded to you is greater than that which was given to John, the Baptist, and was, unto you if you are not faithful. The faithful man finds that he is expected to do the work of Christ by evangelism.
It means that you are responsible for that share of Christ's work which you can do under the direction of one selected by you, your pastor, in order that you may know what to do, our Saviour has set forth the work of the church what its work should be by showing them what the apostles had done. The same had been made to walk, the sick had been healed, the blind had been made to see, but the greatest of all was that the poor should have the Gospel preached unto them. This is the work of the church-hand while it is not dealing with the down-trodden as it should and while it is criticised for this lack of effort, the church does not receive the approval which it should have. Those who are poor in spirit acknowledge Christ as their Saviour.

This duty of being faithful to our stewardship is one in which we must expect to do the garments of ease and don the garments of labor and work for Jesus. The type of man such as John was, were, are, and will be in God's kingdom. If we think we can be good Christians without being ac-live Christians, we are mistaken.

That attitude accounts for the slightleness and the weakness many a church in the kingdom of God. If we desire to clothe ourselves only in soft robes, if we desire to come into God's house only seeking work which is easy and things which are beautiful, instead of putting our shoulder to the wheel and helping the down-trodden, are we faithful in the stewardship which he has given us to perform.
Are we faithful now? If not, it is doubtful if we ever will be.

SANTA CLAUS HAS HOST OF FRIENDS

His Mail Bag Well Filled With Letters
From His Believers in Rock County.

Dear Old St. Nicholas has hosts of friends in Janesville and throughout Rock county. Old Santa is still just a real a personage as he was a century ago and his little friends whose little requests are taken in his existence are to be among the happiest on Christmas day.

The mail bag at the Gazette office that is to be forwarded to the North Pole where Santa lives is full to bursting with little appeals from his friends all over the county and city.
For the most part the letters were well written and could be read plainly which speaks well for the future generation of citizens.

St. Nicholas, or Santa Claus, appeared with a K in Germany, really is handed down to us from the days of the Roman Empire. Saint Nicholas was a man of nature in Lyons and according to the Roman tradition was sent by God to his parents in answer to prayers. Nicholas' life was given over to God and he passed through many hardships among them being forfeited as Bishop of Myra by the dying Bishop who had been warned in a dream of his approach on his return trip from Palestine.

He is ascribed as having brought the dead to life and of being the patron saint of children and sailors.
Children and especially school boys and girls are under his special protection and in Russia and Greece he is appealed to by these classes as the little boys and girls of Germany, England and the United States.

In Germany he is sometimes called Kris Kringle or Santa Klaus. The little people of other countries. Under any of these cognomens he is a welcome visitor on the anniversary of the birth of Christ in many a home.

The giving of gifts on Christmas day has been handed down to us through the centuries since the Holy Babe lay in His lovely manger in far off Palestine and was worshipped by the shepherds and wise men of the east who brought presents of value to the King of the World.

The children's joy and delight in their own patron Saint is evidently not on the wane. Rather it is increasing year by year. Their appeals to their dear old friend for the gifts they desire is an evidence of their abiding faith in mankind and is a belief that should be fostered as far as possible.

On Saturday next the letters of these little people will appear in the Gazette and many a parent and friend will be glad to read of the wants of their own and of others. The mail bag, however, closed, now and no more letters will be received.

CAUSE AND EFFECT
Gode Digestion Follows Right Food.

Indigestion and the attendant discomforts of mind and body are certain to follow continued use of improper food.

Those who are still young and robust are likely to overlook the fact that as dropping water will wear a stone away at last, so with the use of heavy, greasy, rich food, finally cause loss of appetite and indigestion.

Fortunately many are thoughtful enough to study themselves and note the principle of Cause and Effect in their daily food. A N. Y. young woman writes her experience thus:

"Some time ago I had a lot of trouble from indigestion, caused by too rich food. I got so I was unable to digest scarcely anything, and medicines seemed useless.

"A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food, thinking it highly, and as a last resort, I tried it. I am thankful to say that Grape-Nuts not only relieved me of my trouble, but built me up and strengthened my digested organs so that I can now eat anything
I desire. But I stick to Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

another million stamps are sold with-the part of some cities who stand back and let other cities realize that this movement is one of the greatest in the interest of mankind, that has ever been undertaken, work with all their might," says Stanley A. Douglas, who is directing the fight from 411 pity to see the neglect and work that is to their great benefit. They do not seem to realize that the white plague is costing them millions, while they could cut this down to nothing at all,

by giving a little aid now."

means 2,000,000 thoughts against the white plague. It means a penny from every resident of Wisconsin for which they shall get returns a hundred fold later.

Buy a stamp and get friends to buy them. This is the chance of a lifetime to help a noble crusade. If the fight to stamp out consumption is devised, it may cost each citizen a hundred times that little penny. This is the time to act.

CHAPTER VIII.
The Club Age.

It was past two o'clock when the sun, striking in where Blake lay outstretched, began to search one of his legs. He stirred uneasily, and sat upright. Like a sailor, he was wide awake the moment he opened his eyes. He stood up and peered around through the half leafless branches.

Over the water thousands of gulls and terns, boobies and cormorants were skimming and diving, while above them a number of graceful frigates birds—those swift, scarlet-throated pirates of the air—hung poised, ready to swoop down and rob the weaker birds of their fish. All about the headland and the surrounding water was life in fullest action. Even from where he stood Blake could hear the harsh clamor of the seafowl.

In marked contrast to this scene the plain was apparently lifeless. When Blake rose, a small brown lizard darted away across the sand. Otherwise there was neither sight nor sound of a living creature. Blake pondered this as he gathered his clothes into the shade and began to dress.

"Looks like the aleuts in the all-around style in this God-forsaken hole," he grumbled. "I haven't seen so much as a rabbit, nor even one land bird. May be a drought—no; must be the dry season—Where, those things are hot! I'm thirsty as a shark. Now, where's that softy and her ladyship? 'Fraid she's in for a tough time!"

He drew on his shoes with a jerk, growled at their stiffness, and, club in hand, stepped clear of the brush to look for his companions. The first glance along the foot of the cliff showed him Winthrop lying under the shade of the overhanging ledge, a few yards beyond the sand beach. Of Miss Leslie there was no sign. Half alarmed by this, Blake started for the beach with his swinging stride. Winthrop was awake, and on Blake's approach, sat up to greet him.

"Hello!" he called. "Where have you been all this time?"

"Sleep. Where's Miss Leslie?" "She's around the point."

"Blake grinned mockingly. 'Indeed! But I fancy she won't be for long.' He would have passed on, but Winthrop stepped before him.

"Don't go to there, Blake," he protested. "I—ah—think it would be better if I went."

"Why?" demanded Blake. Winthrop hesitated; but an impatient movement by Blake forced an answer: "Well, you remember, this morning, telling us to dry our clothes."

"Yes; I remember," said Blake. "So you want to serve as lady's valet?" Winthrop's plump face turned a sickly yellow.

"I—ah—what?—What do you mean, sir? I protest—I do not understand you!" he stammered. But in the midst, catching sight of Blake's bewildered stare, he suddenly flushed crimson, and burst out in unrepentant anger: "You—you boulder—you boulder!"

"Any man with an ounce of decency—" Blake uttered a jeering laugh. "Wow! Hark, how the British lion roars when his tail's twisted!"

"You boulder!" repeated the Englishman, now purple with rage. Blake's unpleasant plausibility gave place to a scowl. His jaw thrust out like a bulldog's, and he bent towards Winthrop with a menacing look. For a moment the Englishman faced him, sustained by his anger. But there was a steady light in Blake's eyes that he could not withstand. Winthrop's defiant stare wavered and fell. He shrunk back, the color fast ebbing from his cheeks.

"Guess you won't blurt any more about that! You damned hypocrite! Maybe I'm not on to how you've been hanging around Miss Leslie just because she's an heiress. Anything is fair enough for you fellows. But let a fellow so much as open his mouth about your exalted set, and it's perfectly dreadful, you know!"

He paused for a reply. Winthrop only drew back a step farther and eyed him with a furtive, sidelong glance. This brought Blake back to his mocking leer. "You'll learn, Pat, me b'y. There's lots of things'll show up different to you before we get through this picnic. For one thing, I'm boss here—president, congress and supreme court. Understand?"

"By what right, may I ask?" murmured Winthrop.

"Right!" answered Blake. "That hasn't anything to do with the question—it's might. Back in civilized parts your little crowd has the drop on my big crowd and runs things to suit themselves. But here we're sort of reverted to primitive society. This happens to be the Club Age and I'm the Man with the Big Stick. See?"

"I myself sympathize with the lower classes, Mr. Blake. Above all, I think it barbarous the way they punish one who is forced by circumstances to appropriate part of the ill-gotten gains of the rich upstarts. But do you believe, Mr. Blake, that brute strength—"

"You bet! Now shut up. Where're the coconuts?"

Winthrop picked up two nuts and handed them over.

"There were only five," he explained.

"All right. I'm no captain of industry."

"Ah, true; you said we had reverted to barbarism," rejoined Winthrop, venturing an attempt at sarcasm. "Lucky for you!" retorted Blake.

"But where's Miss Leslie all this time? Her clothes must have dried hours ago."

"They did. We had luncheon together just this side of the point."

"Oh, you did! Then why shouldn't I go for her?"

"I—there was a shaded pool around the point, and she thought a dip in the salt water would refresh her. She went not more than half an hour ago."

"So that's it. Well, while I eat you go and call her—and say, you keep this side the point. I'm looking out for Miss Leslie now."

Winthrop hurried away, clenching his fists and almost weeping with impotent rage. Truly, matters were now very different from what they had been aboard ship. Fortunately he had not gone a dozen steps before Miss Leslie appeared around the corner of the cliff. He was scrambling along over the loose stones of the slope without the slightest consideration for his ankle. The girl, more thoughtful, waved to him to wait for her where he was.

As she approached, Blake's frown gave place to a look that made his face positively pleasant. He had already drained the coconuts; now he proceeded to smash the shells into small bits, that he might eat the meat, and at the same time keep his gaze on the girl. The cliff foot being well shaded by the towering wall of rock, she had taken off his coat and was carrying it on her arm; so that there was nothing to mar the effect of her dainty upwork waist, with its elbow sleeves and graceful collar and the filmy veil of lace over the shoulders and bosom. Her skirt had been washed clean by the rain, and she had managed to stretch it into shape before drying.

Refreshed by a nap in the forenoon and by her salt-water dip, she showed more vivacity than at any time that Winthrop could remember during their acquaintance. Her suffering during and since the storm had left its mark in the dark circles beneath her hazel eyes, but this in no wise lessened their brightness; while the elasticity of her step showed that she had quite recovered her well-bred ease and grace of movement.

She bowed and smiled to the two men impartially. "Good-afternoon, gentlemen."

"Same to you, Miss Leslie!" responded Blake, staring at her with frank admiration. "You look fresh as a daisy."

Gentle and sincere as was his tone, the familiarity jarred on her sensitive ear. She colored as she turned from him.

"Is there anything new, Mr. Winthrop?" she asked.

"I'm afraid not, Miss Genevieve. Like ourselves, Blake took a nap."

"Yes; but Blake first took a squint at the scenery. Just as if you've got everything, and fix your hats. We'll be in the sun for half a mile or so. Better get on the coat, Miss Leslie. It's hotter than yesterday."

"Permit me," said Winthrop.

Blake watched while the Englishman held the coat for the girl and rather fustily raised the collar about her neck and turned back the sleeves, which extended beyond the tips of her fingers. The American's face was a study; but his glance took in every little look and act of his companions. He was not altogether unversed in the ways of good society, and it seemed to him that the Englishman was somewhat overcautious in his attentions.

"All ready, Blake," remarked Winthrop, finally, with a last lingering touch.

"Bout time!" grunted Blake. "You're fussy as a tailor. Got the coat?

"Yes, yes," answered Blake. "That hasn't anything to do with the question—it's might. Back in civilized parts your little crowd has the drop on my big crowd and runs things to suit themselves. But here we're sort of reverted to primitive society. This happens to be the Club Age and I'm the Man with the Big Stick. See?"

"Where are we going, Mr. Blake?" exclaimed Miss Leslie. "You will not leave us again!"

"It's only a half-mile, Miss Jenny. There's a break in the ridge. I'm going on ahead to find it if it's hard to climb."

"But why should he climb?" "Food, for one thing. You see, this end of the cliff is covered with sea-birds. Another thing, I expect to strike a spring."

To be continued.

"Be a Good Man, My Dear." Almost the last words which Sir Walter spoke to Lockhart, his biographer, were: "Be a good man, my dear," and with the last flicker of breath on his dying lips, he sighed a farewell to his family and passed away blessing them.—William Makepeace Thackeray.

BABY'S ITCH EASILY CURED

Infantile Eczema Quickly Relieved by External Use of Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

Infantile eczema, which has baffled the skill of the best physicians for so many years at last seems to be curable—and curable with great ease. Results of the last two years indicate conclusively that baby's itch, infantile eczema and other skin diseases of children can be very simply cured by the application of a compound composed of oil of wintergreen, thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription.

The Rev. Lewis Steele, of Wetherly, Pa., writes: "Our baby boy's little face was so dreadfully covered with eczema that blood and water ran from the sores nearly all the time. After using 3 or 4 bottles of D. D. D. Prescription we are so happy to tell you he is entirely cured and the disease has never broken out again. If this letter is in any way a help to other sufferers, you may publish it."

If you have a child which is suffering with this terrible itch, we are sure you will not neglect one hour to give your baby the right kind of relief. We have seen too often how quickly the remedy mentioned above takes the itch away at once and how all the cures seem to be permanent; we have seen this too often to hesitate at all in recommending the remedy for your children.
